HINDENBURG WINS ELECTION

HARBORD MAY GET POST NOW HELD BY WEEKS

Secretary to Retire, Rumor in Capital.

Washington, D. C., April 26.—(Special.)—With the return of Maj. Gen. G. Harbord, formerly chief of staff of the American expeditionary force in France, to the United States, the rumor is current that he will be offered the post of secretary to the president.

Gen. Harbord's brilliant record as a soldier, as an administrator, and as a business executive, it is assumed, make him suited for the place. The fact that he comes from the middle west and has almost the solid backing of the soldiers and the American Legion, which he helped to organize, makes the appointment desirable from a political point of view.

Friend of Mr. Weeks.
Gen. Harbord, it is stated, has been a close friend of Mr. Weeks for many years. Gen. Harbord retired from the army as deputy chief of staff, Weeks said that the army was losing one of its best officers ever developed.

Always on the Job.
When the service of supply broke down and the army could not get supplies to the front, Gen. Harbord stepped in. He was responsible for the St. Mihiel and Meuse-Argonne offensives for the delivery of food and munitions.

SHOT 3 TIMES; POLICE TRACE SLIGHT CLEWS

Victim Unidentified; Kin Sought.

The body of a 16 year old girl, shot three times and burned almost beyond recognition, was found early last night alongside a highway two miles from Chesterton, Ind.

Plainly the young woman was the victim of a murder. She lay near a small wood beside the main road between Chesterton and Burnettsville. Beside the body stood an empty five gallon gasoline can with sinister significance.

Parts of both legs and one arm had been cut from the body. Nothing of the clothing was left excepting the lining of a coat sleeve. A tawdry string of once gray glass beads still adorned the neck. Near the body, where it had plainly rolled out of a destroyed vanity case, lay a shining little powder box.

Apparently Shot When Found.
The girl lay on her face. Two bullets had been fired into the head and one through the side—apparently fired into her body while she lay there. The face was badly burned, as if in an attempt to destroy more completely the identity of the victim.

The legs had been hacked off just below the knees and the missing arm taken away below the elbow. Police believe that the murderers fired the shots into the young victim and then deliberately started to destroy the identifying marks, cutting the shoes and one hand away and then becoming frightened and not waiting to destroy the other hand.

The cutting, apparently, had been done with a dull ax or knife. The remaining extremities had been burned to give the impression that the arm and legs had been burned off.

THE DRIFTING CREW

Dever to Call Meet to Build Airport Here

Definite steps toward the construction of an air port, several down town landing fields and the development of Chicago as the aviation center of the United States, will be taken this week when Mayor Dever calls into a general conference representatives of the federal government, state, county, city and all other forces interested in aviation.

Edward J. Kelly, president of the South Park Commission and chief engineer of the sanitary district of Chicago, was responsible for the mayor's decision to call the conference. Mr. Kelly made the suggestion that such a move would be the best way for Chicago to take the lead in aviation and solve the problems that face the city.

Mr. Dever at once accepted the suggestion.

death occurred and another man was seriously wounded.

Attack Nationalist Headquarters.
Reichsbanner troops and communists attacked the Nationalist headquarters near Hasenheide, a big park in the working section. The place was ransacked and literature burned. In the fighting a Nationalist had his eye gouged out.

The Nationalists took revenge and attacked the communist headquarters in Schoenberger Hauptstrasse, burning everything. This caused more riots.

Election day dawned with a cold, driving rain, but the storm, which continued throughout the day, did not deter the voters. At six o'clock it was announced that about eighty-five per cent of the registered voters had cast their ballots.

Monarchist Flags Predominate.
Every street in the residential section of Berlin was draped with flags. In most quarters, including the communist strongholds, the imperial banner predominated.

The demonstrations began early. The Nationalists had big motor trucks filled with boys between the ages of sixteen and twenty. The Reichsbanner troops marched and employed horse drawn wagons chiefly.

In all parts of the city monarchist, republican, and communist troops, armed with heavy staves, iron, or walking sticks, were out looking for trouble. In most cases they found it. Wherever possible, the schupo prevented clashes, but it could not be done everywhere.

Mounted Police Charge Rioters.
In the Café Wilhelm, facing the memorial church, some of the Nationalists had their headquarters. Many policemen were stationed there, with strong reinforcements of mounted troops, but even this force did not prevent fighting when the Reichsbanner troops attempted to march through the streets in front of the café. Mounted policemen finally charged the crowd, but not before thirty persons were laid out on each side.

The rioting continued through the evening. Crowds gathered in all corners of the city and when the election results were proclaimed there were demonstrations, immediately growing into rows. These, however, were soon controlled by the police.

Marx Held Early Lead.
With 2,000,000 votes counted at 9 o'clock—the entire election embraces about 21,000,000 votes—Herr Marx had a lead of 200,000 votes.

Shortly after when 6,000,000 votes had been counted, Gen. von Hindenburg was leading by a similar margin. Twenty minutes later a flood of Marx votes had given Dr. Marx a slight majority.

At 10:30 o'clock 14,000,000 votes had been counted and on the basis of these returns the nationalist headquarters claimed their candidate had a majority of 1,000,000 at least. The joy of the nationalists, however, was short lived, as tabulated figures revealed a little later that Herr Marx had 7,065,000 and Gen. von Hindenburg had 6,438,000, and Herr Thaelmann, 284,000.

While these bulletins were being flashed throughout Berlin, the nationalist and Reichsbanner groups continued to parade through the streets and whenever the bands met a free for all fight resulted.

Hindenburg Does Not Vote.
Gen. von Hindenburg did not take part in the election contest. Instead of voting at Hanover, he passed the day quietly with his grandchildren on the baronial estate of Frau von Mahrenholz, whose daughter is the wife of Gen. von Hindenburg's elder son.

The other candidates voted early in the morning.

EVENTS WHICH LED UP TO HINDENBURG'S RISE TO PRESIDENCY

Nov. 9, 1918—Kaiser Wilhelm abdicates as emperor of Germany. Friedrich Ebert becomes chancellor of Germany, taking leadership of revolution against Hohenzollern government.

Nov. 11, 1918—Armistice signed between Germany and allies.

Nov. 28, 1918—Former Kaiser formally renounces all future claims to throne.

Feb. 11, 1919—National German assembly elects Friedrich Ebert president at Weimar.

July 31, 1919—Constitution of German republic, drawn up at Weimar, approved by assembly.

Feb. 28, 1925—President Ebert dies. March 12, 1925—Dr. Walter Simons sworn in as acting president of Germany to succeed Herr Ebert.

March 29, 1925—Germany fails to elect a president as law provides that the first election is final only if one candidate receives a majority of all votes cast. In the second or run-off election a plurality elects.

April 26, 1925—Gen. Von Hindenburg, former commander of the armies of the German empire, and the candidate of the nationalists of Germany, elected to presidency in Germany's first popular election. The presidential term is seven years.

All Germans more than 35 years old, including women, are eligible to the office.

Universal suffrage prevailed in the presidential election, men or women citizens 20 years old or over being eligible to vote. The ballot was secret.

More than 60 per cent of the German population, or around 30,000,000, was eligible to vote.

Berlin and spent the day quietly with their families.

RACE BY HINDENBURG

BERLIN, April 26.—[By the Associated Press.]—Field Marshal Paul von Hindenburg and his wife, life-long soldier, wartime military hero of Germany, by training and temperament alien to political campaigns, was drawn reluctantly in his old age into an arena unknown to him when he consented to become a candidate for the presidency of Germany for the parties of the right, known as the nationalist conservative bourgeois bloc.

The martial figure of the imperial Germany that has passed seemed to fit awkwardly into his new role. His speeches were few and brief; he did not travel from his home town of Hanover. His press agents found him unskilled in the ways of publicity and not adept in the ways of self-seeking.

Von Hindenburg said in resisting the attempts to make him a candidate that he was too old, that he could not understand the new generation.

His entire campaign activities consisted in receiving delegations that came to Hanover, making several short addresses at his home, and toward the last, giving interviews. The outlandish figure of the old soldier, with his white hair and mustache, seemed to fit awkwardly into his new role.

ing points of his speeches were an appeal for the unity of the German people, a declaration of his aversion to war, his insistence that Germany must regain her independence, and not be dependent upon other nations.

Only the future, he said, could show whether the Dawes reparations plan was capable of fulfillment and, assigned the field marshal, "Germany will not be able to fulfill the conditions unless the foreign powers participating in the pact evince political and economic loyalty."

In his first and most important campaign speech, delivered before a great nationalist gathering at Hanover, Von Hindenburg denied that his candidacy represented reaction or was inimical to the republic. He spoke, however, for "a place in the sun" again for Germany, and avoided any reference to such international issues as the security pact, the league of nations, and reparations in general.

After the first presidential election on March 29, Dr. Karl Jarres, nationalist leader, and Dr. Wilhelm Marx, former chancellor, and nominee of the republican bloc, emerged as the two chief candidates for the second, and decisive, test by ballot. But the nationalists, fearing that Marx would defeat Jarres, appealed to Von Hindenburg to replace Jarres, which, under the German system, was possible.

The field marshal after several days delay yielded, declaring that he did so because of a "feeling of duty alone and not by personal inclination."

A Soldier All His Life.
Born in 1847 at Posen, Von Hindenburg's career has ever been a military one. He first saw active service in the war of 1866 with Austria. Then came the Franco-Prussian war, and though he had retired in 1913 he was appointed in 1914 commander of the 8th army corps, with Ludendorff as chief of staff, and his victories of Tannenberg and the Masurian lakes in the world war raised him again as a popular hero with rapid promotion to a field marshal's baton.

Perhaps one of his greatest services to his country was his refusal to desert his post when the revolution came. After the world war he personally led the armies back to their home bases. He again retired from active service in 1919. When there was talk of prosecuting William II, he offered himself as a substitute for his emperor.

WASHINGTON IS NOT ALARMED BY HINDENBURG

Borah Sees Nationalism as Possible Benefit.

Washington, D. C., April 26.—[Special.]—Little alarm appeared to have been created in Washington by the election of Von Hindenburg as president of the German republic.

Senator William E. Borah, chairman of the foreign relations committee, said: "I do not think the Hindenburg election need to be regarded as necessarily disturbing. I have no doubt there will be a recrudescence of the nationalist feeling and spirit, but if that is directed along right lines it will be helpful. I feel that it will be directed along right lines."

Borah Is Not Disturbed.
"There will be much talk about Germany arming and getting ready for another war. I do not believe that there will be anything of the kind. I expect to see a strong, proud effort on the part of Germany to retain her national integrity, both territorially and economically, and for one I hope she may."

It is to the interest of Europe and all the world that she do so. "In short, I think the outside world had better go forward on the theory that the German people had the right to elect the man they wanted and that until the facts appear otherwise they will accommodate their energies and their efforts to right principles and policy."

Senator Swanson, ranking Democrat on the foreign relations committee, said: "I hope it will not result in Germany becoming a new military nation. The election puts Germany under suspicion. The only way the suspicion can be removed is for the forces that carried out the present election to indicate in a marked degree a desire for peace and repudiation of the past military attitude and ambitions of Germany. I regard European affairs, with the election of Von Hindenburg, as uncertain and possibly threatening."

Sees No Difference to U. S.
Representative Hamilton Fish of New York, member of the foreign affairs committee of the house, said: "I don't really think that Von Hindenburg's election will make much difference. I am sure as far as the American government's attitude and the attitude of the American bankers are concerned that it won't make an iota of difference."

Robert Lansing, former secretary of state, said: "I have a great deal of confidence in the common sense of the German people. I do not believe that the result of the election is a reactionary movement. On the other hand, it may be a conservative movement."

STUDENT DROWN IN LAKE.

Dr. Bundesen Tells How Keen Smell Aids Health
How a keen sense of smell aids health is explained by Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, commissioner of health, in today's issue of Chicago's Health. The nose, he says, is an aid to the proper digestion of food, acting as it does to aid the flow of gastric juice, and serves well, in addition, as a warning against tainted foods.

CHICAGO TO DISAPPOINTING ELECTION

But No Return toarchy is

With a "let us" attitude, promising to do yesterday's work, von Hindenburg's presidency of Germany is a disappointment for an opinion that Dr. W. has been elected, but evidence that the work for the best interests of the country.

Others who called for a return to the election, in their expression of the result. "That's the worst since 1914," said one.

CHICAGO TEUTONS DISAPPOINTED BY ELECTION RESULTNo Return of Monarchy Is Seen.

With a "let us hope for the best" attitude, prominent Germans of Chicago yesterday accepted the news of the election of Gen. von Hindenburg to the presidency of Germany. Most of them expressed an opinion, expressed disappointment that Dr. Wilhelm Marx had been elected, but they professed confidence that the field marshal would work for the best interests of his country.

Those who called the Tassows for the election were more vehement in their expression of disapproval of the results.

"That's the worst news I've heard since 1918," said one man.

Monarchy Won't Return.

Dr. Otto L. Schmidt, president of the Chicago Historical society, voiced the general opinion.

"I would have preferred that Dr. Marx be elected," he said. "But even if Gen. von Hindenburg, I believe the democratic element will maintain its hold on the government. The election does not mean a return to a monarchy."

Superior Judge Oscar Hebel declared that Gen. von Hindenburg, on his record, would do what was best for his country. "The general will do nothing to bring the Kaiser back to power," he said.

William Rothman, former member of the board of education, said that Gen. von Hindenburg's election did not mean a change from the republican form of government.

Mr. Teich, 550 Lake Shore drive, realty hotel owner, was like the rest, in favor of Dr. Marx but not dismayed by the field marshal's victory. Mr. Teich is leaving in ten days to visit Germany.

"The result of the election was a victory against socialism and communism," he declared.

Called Safe Leader.

Gen. von Hindenburg will be an absolutely safe leader, according to Paul Muller, publisher of the Abendpost, leading German language newspaper.

"The republic will not be affected by the election," he said. "The republic's election does not mean the return of a monarchy or another war."

Gen. von Hindenburg will do what is right for Germany. He has no idea of installing a monarchy," said Ernest J. Kruttschnitt, president of the engineering company bearing his name.

NEW YORK TRIES TO BEAT CHICAGO
MURDER RECORD

New York, April 26.—(Special.)—The number of murders in the City of New York is steadily increasing each year and the number of murders committed before juries and convicted is steadily decreasing, according to G. Aron, chairman of the advisory committee of the police department.

Mr. Aron points out that the records of the chief medical examiner show there were 222 murders reported in 1922, as against 240 in 1921, the year of Commissioner Enright's control of the police department.

Mr. Aron further charges that the statistics compiled by the committee show that in the seven years of Mayor Hylan's administration and Police Commissioner Enright's there has been a steady breaking down of efficiency in the police department, and points to a 40 per cent increase in murders in 1922.

PLOT DISCLOSED
TO FREE MIDGET
BY SLAYING COPSPlanned to Kill All
Taking Him to N. Y.

Details of a plot to rescue Henry J. Farnes, midget bank robber and slayer, reached Chief of Detectives William Schoemaker yesterday.

It was planned at first by Farnes' confederates to restore him to freedom by shooting down all the police who were to accompany Farnes to New York. Now Chief Schoemaker is forewarned against efforts to liberate him from his police cell or later from the county jail.

This information, which was given first to Chief of Police Morgan A. Collins, is expected to have great weight in the conference today in which it will be decided whether to permit Farnes' extradition or to try him here for a murder.

Chief Schoemaker said there is sufficient evidence and identification here to justify a hanging verdict.

Farnes so far has refused to consider his predicament as serious. Chief Schoemaker said he wouldn't consider one proposition tendered him, but the chief would not say what it was. Chief Schoemaker considered it significant that Farnes would not seek to make some bargain.

ISLANDS FALL TO "BLUES" IN
FIRST BATTLEMain Drive to "Capture"
Honolulu Begun.

Honolulu, T. H., April 26.—(United News.) The islands of Molokai, Lanai, and Maui have been seized by the "blues," with a severe loss of life among the attackers.

Admiral Robert E. Coontz, chief umpire in the war game being played by the United States fleet, made the first official announcement regarding movements of the invading "blue" forces today. The opening major engagement has resulted in a costly victory for that portion of the fleet which is attempting to prove that America's Pacific defenses are inadequate.

Casualties of the battle include the sinking of the "blue" mine layer Shawmut by defending planes. Gunfire from the attacking submarine S-30 "sunk" the "black" submarine R-19. The speed of the U. S. S. Wyoming was cut to fifteen knots by the damage of "black" torpedoes.

"Blues" Win Air Duel.

An attack on the "blue" destroyer Lawrence by two bombers, which soared out over the invading ships, was unsuccessful, but in an air engagement off Molokai a "black" seaplane was brought down by "blue" aircraft.

While Admiral Coontz gave out these details of an engagement already completed, reports here indicated that the main portion of the invading sea forces were sweeping down upon Oahu. Following the theoretical capture of Molokai the enemy began landing operations and are said to have a large shore station already established to aid in the drive upon Honolulu.

Destroyers Repulsed.

During the night "blue" destroyers crept in against this city, but were repulsed by land batteries. A mine layer from the attackers approached the coast at Diamond Head, but was discovered, it was believed, before explosives could be planted.

Lookouts, straining their eyes seaward for glimpses of ships of the enemy, have not yet reported sighting the airplane carrier Langley. Concentration against this vessel will be made in an attempt to cripple the invaders' power in the air.

Humboldt, Tenn., April 26.—After killing two youths with a single bullet on the main street today, Constable Will T. GIVE US FASTER
BOATS, DRY COAST
GUARDS' APPEAL

New York, April 26.—(Special.)—Members of the United States coast guard, detailed to service in the prohibition navy, have begun to express dissatisfaction because their new patrol boats are so much slower than the boats of the rum runners. In a rum running chase their only alternative is to shoot if they expect to stop the fugitive.

The coast guard are reluctant to open fire on every boat that they fail to halt or overtake, because they are sometimes mistaken in the identity of the suspect, as they were recently when they fired a shot over the bow of the yacht of Christian Fleggenplan, former brewer of Newark, entering New York bay.

They are also reluctant to fire for another reason. Members of the coast guard assert that a large percentage of those engaged in the rum running business are former service men.

LAWYER FIRES ON WITNESS AT
SPIES' TRIAL

WARSAW, Poland, April 26.—(By the Associated Press.)—Hofmoll Ostrowski, a prominent lawyer and author, counsel for defense in the trial of eleven soviet spies, fired six shots at a Polish officer who had testified against the prisoners, when the officer entered the courtroom last night.

Ostrowski was disarmed and arrested. He was refused permission to continue the case under a guard.

Yesterday Ostrowski insulted the officer while he was testifying and after court had taken a recess the officer slapped the lawyer's face.

Ostrowski went home, put his affairs in order and took a revolver to court with him. He had just begun his plea to the jury when the officer entered. Ostrowski immediately shot at him.

GIRL, 16, SLAIN, MUTILATED IN GARY DISTRICT

to the Loeb-Leopold confessions of the murder of Bobby Franks as an example of what might be accomplished with the glasses.

The body was that of a small, slim girl. Alive she must have been of willowy, attractive figure, weighing probably 100 pounds.

After the body was removed to the undertaking establishment, a checkup on missing girls in the surrounding towns, including Gary and Hammond, only a few miles distant, was at once begun by Acting Captain of Police James Connelly of Gary. A coroner's physician also was to make a post-mortem examination of the body for evidence of an attack, for conditions suggested such a theory.

Of the important clues in addition to the eyeglasses the gasoline can and the railroad card were considered important by the sheriff. He said the card would be subjected to examination under a powerful magnifying glass.

And the sheriff also began at once to make efforts to trace the purchase of the five gallon gasoline can that told its grim tale of horror beside the little slender body. The officer believed it must have been obtained at some garage or gasoline station within a reasonable distance from the scene.

He said he believes the purchase and carrying away of a five gallon can of gasoline is unusual enough to attract attention and he believes the purchaser would be remembered.

SIX UNIVERSITY HEADS MEET TOMORROW TO IMPROVE RELATIONS

Five presidents of leading universities will meet at a luncheon tomorrow to consider plans for the promotion of closer academic relations between eastern and middle western universities.

The luncheon, at the University club, is in honor of Dr. Josiah H. Penniman, president of the University of Pennsylvania. It is given by Albert H. Brunner, university trustee, and a group of more than sixty representative Chicago men will be present.

Dr. Walter Dill Scott, Northwestern university; Dr. David Kinley, University of Illinois; Dr. Howard M. Raymond, Armour Institute of Technology; Dr. Irving T. Maurer, Beloit college, are the other university heads who will be present. Dr. Ernest D. Burton, head of the University of Chicago, will be prevented by illness from attending.

The college presidents will confer not only on how to bring about closer relationships between their schools but also on plans for the betterment of education in general.

Can Average Salesmen Sell Your Goods?

The super-salesman and the super-dealer can sell anything. Sales sheets for any month and any territory prove it. But by contrast, these outstanding successes emphasize the difficulty of succeeding with average salesmen under average conditions.

Great business successes may have a few super-men at the top, but executives know you cannot keep unusual ability in usual jobs. Hence they are solving the sales problem by increasing salability of products, thus eliminating dealer resistance so that average men can do better.

This is one of the reasons why big business employs advertising. It pays. The service of this thoroughly experienced advertising agency is available to executives desiring to inquire into the possible earning power of money devoted to advertising. Our helpful book, "Four Square Advertising," is mailed on request.

UTILITIES THRIVE IN WISCONSIN ON ENDABLE PERMIT

Official Tells of Service Benefiting Citizens.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

Madison, Wis., April 26.—(Special.)—Under the indeterminate permit system in Wisconsin have taken their motto: "Service can go to hell," said Lewis E. Gettle today, chairman of the state railroad commission for four years and its secretary for the preceding six years.

"The public utilities give better service in Wisconsin than they do in Illinois," was asked.

"I have not made that sort of a comparison," Mr. Gettle replied, "but beyond any question they give better service than they did under the limited time franchise or under the perpetual franchise. You have seen the street cars in New York, haven't you? We would not let cars of that kind be run in any backwoods town."

Figures on Rates.

"Are your rates lower in Wisconsin than in Illinois?"

"I do not know whether they are, but they should be."

"If your rates are not lower, is it fair to assume that the utilities are making more profits here than in Illinois?"

"We permit them to make 7 1/2 and 8 per cent in Wisconsin, if they can. The street car companies can not do it. It is impossible for them to charge a rate that would net them 4 per cent. The Milwaukee system makes between 1 1/2 and 4 per cent."

Denies This Charge.

"In Milwaukee it is charged that they have been unable to obtain desirable and needed extensions of the surface lines under the indeterminate permit system. They say they have obtained voluntary extensions and loans, but have been turned down on extensions they asked. What is your explanation?"

"It is not true. That is all. There has not been an extension they have asked for on any reasonable showing they have not received. C. M. Larson, head of our engineering staff, is as well informed on street railways as any man in the country. He says that Milwaukee has the best street car system of any city of its size in the country. The last extension that I recall Milwaukee asked was on Center street, and it was granted. You must have been talking with some of the Milwaukee Socialists. They want municipal ownership and will do anything they can to get it."

Study of M.-O. Up There.

"How does municipal ownership work in Wisconsin?"

"I believe in municipal ownership."

SEES CREDIT AID FOR FARMER IN WAREHOUSE ACT

Washington, D. C., April 26.—(Special.)—Secretary of Agriculture Jardine is convinced of possibilities under the federal warehouse act of both aiding the farmer in marketing crops in an orderly manner and in financing them.

The secretary's views were voiced today in an address to a conference of all field workers connected with the administration of the warehouse act.

The conference considered plans for unifying action among all the workers and for bringing to the attention of the farmer the warehouse act and the ways in which he can be served under it.

"One of the greatest problems which has ever faced American agriculture has resulted from dumping farm products on the market during the first few months after harvest," said Secretary Jardine. "The practice has resulted in glut and periods of low prices."

Take electric plants, as illustrative. It has worked well where the city can obtain cheap current and has not worked well in other places. Where they have hydroelectric facilities it works well. The small plant cannot produce as cheaply as the large plant.

"One plant I remember where it cost 5, 6, or 7 cents to produce a kilowatt. Then along came the high power line which could sell current at 2 1/2 cents per kilowatt at a profit. The municipal plants at Menasha, Kaukauna and Manitowish have made so much profit that we have reduced their rates. At times some of them have made as high as 25 per cent."

"Are you willing to say that the indeterminate permit has been successful in Wisconsin?"

"Undoubtedly. The indeterminate permit with central regulation has been satisfactory. Let me cite one indication. Much has been criticized in our taxation system, but Wisconsin has increased its manufacturing more than any middle western state, except Michigan, where the automobile industry has been a dominating factor. Our per cent of growth in manufacturing has been larger than Illinois. We are getting the reputation of fair treatment on a long time policy. An industry can ascertain exactly our requirements and restrictions and can know with definiteness what to expect over a long period. That gives us a decided advantage."

And Would Work Here.

"Would the indeterminate permit work as successfully in Illinois?"

"I know of no reason why it should not."

"Would the provision in our constitution, which prohibits the legislature from granting a permit to operate street cars without the consent of the local authorities, be a hindrance?"

"That is not in our constitution, but it is in the Wisconsin law and we respect it religiously. As a matter of practice, we insist that the local authorities shall ask for the utility."

Could Force Extensions.

"If we adopt the Barr bill, how can we force extensions and improvements? How could we force the elevated to build a cross town line connecting the south, west and north sides so as to relieve the loop of traffic?"

"If the elevated is to be obligated or is now obligated to supply adequate rapid transit facilities, your commission could order that line built and it could sell current at 2 1/2 cents per kilowatt at a profit. We force utilities to continue operating regardless of the fact they make no profit—some

24 VESSELS ADDED TO U. S. MERCHANT MARINE SINCE JAN. 1

Washington, D. C., April 26.—(Special.)—The American merchant marine is giving signs of growth, according to a report just issued by the bureau of research of the shipping board. The report shows there are now twenty-four more vessels of 1,000 gross tons or over, which class represents about 81 per cent of our total power driven seagoing tonnage, than there were on Jan. 1. The report also shows that on April 1 there were seventeen less privately owned vessels laid up than at the beginning of the year.

of them claim they are operating at an actual loss."

"How can you force a utility to obey orders since you cannot terminate its permit?"

"In Wisconsin they do obey. While we cannot terminate a permit because we are an administrative body, we can put a competitor in the field when a utility cannot or will not supply a good service at a reasonable cost. But we are not helpless otherwise. The city can purchase. We fix the valuation and conditions of purchase. The city can pay by taxation, if it has the taxing power; can issue full credit bonds for any period of time or can issue mortgage certificates which are a lien only on the earnings of the property, or it can combine those methods. That is one way out."

"But there is still another remedy. The utility assumes an obligation to the public. If it refuses or fails to meet that obligation the attorney general of the state can have the courts forfeit the utility franchise. That could be done in my opinion, if we had no statutory law on the subject; and I believe that it could be done in Illinois. Utilities here have removed the sign."

"To hell with the service."

"What time limits are placed on bonds of utilities under the indeterminate franchise?"

"We pass on the necessity for new issues and the utility can issue them for any period they desire. Usually the term is twenty years but they could issue them for forty years, if they desire."

"Do stocks and bonds of Wisconsin utilities sell for a better price than Illinois utility securities?"

"Since the war our utility bonds usually sell for ninety-five to ninety-eight. That is better than some of your transportation bonds are being quoted."

Loses Position; Kills Self while Despondent

Despondent, it is believed, over the loss of a position he had held with the General Furniture company for many years, James McMillin, 61 years old, 5455 Calumet avenue, returned to his home late last evening and locking himself in the bathroom, killed himself by inhaling gas. His wife, Millie, returning from a theater, found the body.

Grocer Is Shot, Perhaps Fatally, as Rum Suspect

M. Knoll, 3215 West 95th street, Evergreen Park, a grocer, was shot in the back and perhaps fatally wounded last night when he failed to heed a command to halt given by two Mount Greenwood policemen while he was driving a truck at a high rate of speed north on Kedzie avenue toward Evergreen Park. Policemen John Hrabak and Charles Kerin said they suspected Knoll's truck contained liquor and attempted to force him to stop by shooting at the tires of the truck.

Are You Paying for Extravagant Service?

The one great service that the retailer of women's garments should render is to furnish the authentic styles at the lowest possible price.

All other services, such as luxurious ground floor locations on the most expensive streets, charge accounts with all their attendant costs and losses, elaborate delivery systems, etc., are superfluous, and for most women, extravagant.

These expensive and unnecessary services constitute the main items in the "high cost of retailing" and are responsible for the "great difference between wholesale and retail prices."

The remedy for high prices of stylish garments lies in the hands of you as a buyer!

By going a block from the beaten paths of retailing—taking the elevator to this third floor—and paying cash for your purchase, you will obtain low prices, and you will always get well selected garments of correct style and fine quality.

LEGISLATORS, IN VOTING, VIOLATE OATHS OF OFFICE

List Those Who Downed Redistricting Bill.

Section 4, article 4, of the Illinois constitution says:

"The general assembly shall apportion the state every ten years, beginning with the year one thousand eight hundred and seventy-one (1871), by dividing the population of the state, as ascertained by the federal census, by the number fifty-one, and the quotient shall be the ratio of representation in the senate. The state shall be divided into fifty-one senatorial districts, each of which shall elect one senator, whose term of office shall be four years. Senatorial districts shall be formed of contiguous and compact territory, bounded by county lines, and contain as nearly as practicable, an equal number of inhabitants; but no district shall contain less than four-fifths of the senatorial ratio. Counties containing not less than the ratio of three-fourths may be divided into separate districts, and shall be entitled to two senators and to one additional senator for each number of inhabitants equal to the ratio contained by such counties in excess of twice the number of said ratio."

Oath of Legislators.

The legislators took the following oath:

"I do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I will support the constitution of the United States and the constitution of the state of Illinois, and will faithfully discharge the duties of senator (or representative) according to the best of my ability; and that I have not knowingly or intentionally paid or contributed anything, or made any promise in the nature of a bribe, to directly or indirectly influence any vote at the election at which I was chosen to fill the said office, and have not accepted, nor will I accept or receive, directly or indirectly, any money or other valuable thing from any corporation, company, or person for any vote or influence I may give or withhold on any bill, resolution, or appropriation, or for any other official act."

The same section of the constitution prescribing this oath says:

"Any member who shall refuse to take the oath herein prescribed shall forfeit his office, and every member who shall be convicted of having sworn falsely to or of violating this said oath shall forfeit his office and be disqualified thereafter from holding any office of profit or trust in this state."

Insurance executive says Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is "Conqueror of Constipation"

Former addict to pills and drugs says ALL-BRAN restored youthful vim.

Here is a most remarkable tribute to Kellogg's ALL-BRAN:

For more than one-third of a century I was an addict to all kinds of pills, drugs and nostrums to alleviate the tortures resulting from constipation. They brought only temporary relief. Then I tried Kellogg's ALL-BRAN, and as a result I have a new birth of freedom from the terrible foe of the race. I am again in the pink of condition, the reformation even of youthful vigor in my advancing years. Truly, Mr. W. K. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is the conqueror of constipation.

New York Traffic Lights Now Match the Nation's

New York, April 26.—New York's street signal lights for motorists were changed today to the code in use practically everywhere else in the country. Much to the relief of motorists and pedestrians, red will at last mean "stop" and green "go ahead," after four years of just the opposite.

Let Kellogg's ALL-BRAN conquer constipation forever for you. Doctors recommend it. It is what they call a bulk food, that sweeps the intestine clean, stimulating digestion and normal, healthy action. Something habit-forming pills and drugs can never do.

Eat at least two tablespoonfuls daily—in chronic cases, with every meal. If eaten regularly, relief is guaranteed or your grocer returns the purchase price. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is made in Battle Creek, Mich. Served in leading hotels and restaurants. Sold by all grocers.

BULGARS FREE AGRARIAN CHIEFS OF BOMB GUILT

Reports Say Fighting Is Still Bitter.

SOFIA, Bulgaria, April 26.—[By the Associated Press.]—An official communication issued today says that investigations have been rewarded by the discovery of many important facts which throw light on the "widespread communist conspiracy" in Bulgaria.

The police also have been able to establish the exact method by which the conspirators are financed from Moscow and Vienna.

The statement says that Tomov, Omartchevski, Markov and other agrarian leaders have been released, as it was found that they were not implicated in the plots. It adds that about 100 other persons were released yesterday.

Still another official communication says it has been established that in addition to the bomb explosion in the cathedral several other outrages had been planned, both in Sofia and in the provinces. Parliament buildings and the central postoffice were included among the places to be attacked, but the plans miscarried owing to the prompt measures taken by the military authorities.

CHICAGO DEATHS CUT 852 IN YEAR; HEALTH WEEK ON

Chicago starts Health week, which opened yesterday, with the record of having had 852 deaths fewer in the last year than it had in the year preceding, in spite of an increase in population of 50,000. Dr. Herman N. Bunsen, commissioner of health, pointed out that fact yesterday as his comment on the city's health program.

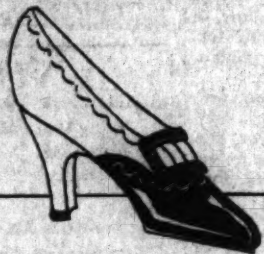

Today has been designated by the state health department as physical examination day, in which physicians and dentists should be interviewed. Tomorrow is diphtheria prevention day. Wednesday is the day for vaccination against small pox. Citizens and city health departments are asked to investigate milk and water supplies Thursday.

2 MESSAGES of IMPORTANCE

Directed to the clientele of Ernest S. Fowler, Optician and Optometrist. Established 1881

A Compliment

It is with deep regret that I make public announcement of my retirement from the optical business, after a lifetime of service.

In closing my business I have looked for some suitable organization to carry on my practice as I would have it done.

My search has ended with Craven & Hardin, opticians, who, I believe, are particularly fitted in their optical service shops to serve that class of people who were my patrons.

I have every confidence in these men and can recommend their services without reservation.

Signed,

Ernest S. Fowler,
1107 Columbus Memorial Bldg.

An Appreciation

We thank Mr. Fowler. Inasmuch as he has spent some 44 years with distinction in his profession, we consider his letter a distinct compliment.

Mr. Fowler has asked that we inform his patrons that all of his optical record cards and prescriptions are now on file in our optical service shops, where they can be referred to at any time in case of breakage, when you wish to duplicate your lenses, or when you wish to have your glasses checked over.

It may interest people to know that Mr. Fowler occupied our exact location at 31 East Madison street for 18 years.

Signed,

Craven & Hardin,

No matter where you may have purchased your glasses, we will be pleased, at all times, to aid in maintaining the efficiency of your eyesight.

The Low French Franc

offers you the opportunity of a lifetime to own French furniture

Colby's buyers, while in France, purchased 630,000 francs for $32,382 (normally worth $121,797). Much of this furniture was made to their special order and in many instances, after their own designs. Many of the remarkable prices are the result of helping to finance small makers who were financially embarrassed by the war.

TODAY, papers tell of the drastic efforts of the French Government to restore the value of their money, and when they do, this remarkable opportunity to own French furniture at less than its normal cost of production in France, will be gone forever.

No wonder American manufacturers are appealing to Congress for a prohibitive tariff, when a beautiful hand carved needlework chair can be sold at about the price of the American made frame alone, or when a bronze trimmed, marble top commode in Rosewood and Mahogany is offered to you at $44.50.

This is furniture history, an aftermath of the war, and is bringing to you the so-called luxurious French Period Furniture, at less than the price of ordinary, everyday furniture.

TEXINS RECALL SHEPHERD AND THE M'CLINTOCKS

BY NEWBURN A. BROWNE.

Galveston, Tex., April 26.—[Special.]—William D. Shepherd exhibited all interest in, or affection for, little Billy, the son of "Billy" McClinton, who, in his later years, as William N. McClinton, master of a lighthouse $1,000, was to name that same shepherd as chief benefactor in his last will.

The closest or more acquaintances of Shepherd still residing at Bayview, near Galveston, who were interviewed by Assistant State's Attorney John Shearman of Chicago, almost without exception were unanimous in their opinion. Little Billy came along when Shepherd came over to the neighboring village of Seabrook for the McClinton mail, several were able to recall. The child even then appeared to look up to Shepherd as the only father he had ever known.

Physicians Now Dead.
A thorough search failed to locate any physician that attended Mrs. McClinton, who is said to have been suddenly seized with her fatal illness while residing at the Bayview cottage. Both physicians who are believed to have attended her are now dead. Also deceased are a number of other witnesses whose names are upon the list Shearman had intended to see.

Tomorrow Mr. Shearman anticipates taking formal statements from a number of witnesses at the office of District Attorney Charles L. Theobald of Galveston county. When those depositions are complete the assistant prosecutor will then better be able, he said, to determine just which of the witnesses he will request to testify in the Chicago trial of Shepherd.

Shearman announced he hoped to establish tomorrow, by a canvass of Galveston drug stores, whether any mercury was purchased by Mrs. McClinton or by any one close to her during her residence here. He also has other witnesses to look up in Houston and in Dallas before returning to Chicago.

Police Break Up Parade of Clothing Workers

New York, April 26.—Mounted policemen and members of the bomb squad broke up a parade of 2,000 men's clothing workers who had begun a march on the offices of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America.

SET TRIAL DATE.
William D. Shepherd will face Judge Thomas J. Lynch today and through his attorneys make known his desires as to an immediate trial or delay on the indictment naming him the murderer of William McClinton.

The principal procedure will be the fixing of a date for the opening of the trial. An agreement may be necessary if an early date is suggested by the court, as the defense attorneys have a right, under a ruling of the Supreme court, to ask a "reasonable time" to prepare a defense.

Second Trial of Dickey
Slayers Starts Today
Waukegan, Ill., April 26.—[Special.]—Waukegan will be the stage of the second trial of the four men charged with the murder of Russell Sage Dickey, express messenger on the Viking express of the Chicago and Northwestern line, tomorrow.

Week-End Tour of 'Air a Mixed Blessing.

BY ELMER DOUGLASS.

The opening on Saturday night of station WHT was too great an event to be omitted from this morning's review.

There were rows of automobiles discharging passengers at the Wrigley building; a canopied and carpeted entrance way; an ever changing scene of formally attired men and dejected women moving to and fro in corridors and reception rooms; the large artistically decorated studio graced with a continuous panorama of artists with pronounceable and unpronounceable names, which is the long and wrong way of saying that the artists were famed and talented.

Yesterday afternoon at about 3 o'clock the dials were placed as near 258 meters as possible, and in a second the long awaited call letters WHT were heard. But the incoming signal was very weak at this receiving point. A half hour later, when WMBB (228 meters) came on the air, WHT disappeared. At 4 o'clock WDBT (256 meters) and WGBN (246 meters) were on the air. These are very close together on the dials, but my set separates them clearly. I am poorly located for reception from WHT, and will not be able to hear this station when either WMBB or WGBN are on the air.

Quickly changing subject and mood, I here plunge rough and ready and snappy a few wicked words at WGBN's 4 o'clock chapel program announcer, for the reason that the organization providing yesterday's concert deserved better announcements. "Dedicate! What does he mean, 'dedicate'?" The word has no meaning, "dedicate" is not pronounced "base-o," but "base-o," and "just" is not pronounced "jess." After becoming ill tempered at WGBN, I turned to WMBB, where the dignified and deep voiced announcer, station's orchestra, and meritorious artists soothed my nerves and brought me back to normal.

There is not space to build up the total picture that should accompany the last words I shall be able to write until full coverage of the WGBN's 4 o'clock musical. Last evening's concert brought this singularly delightful series to a close. The very tones themselves seemed to say "farewell," and tender, tonal messages they were, too. Musical Director and Announcer Robert Boniel expressed the thanks of the Orpheus orchestra for many messages of appreciation, and I sincerely hope that I am worthily expressing some appropriate message as a token of our gratitude and appreciation of the radio audience.

For the upbuilding of this musical into one of our most delightful Sunday feature programs, especial credit must be given to Mr. Boniel. Their closing selection, "Old Pal," how appropriate! "One more change, and we close with the voices of the soloists of the Paulist Choirs of Chicago ringing in mind's memory, from W-G-N, 9 to 10.

BUNCO HOSTESS, GUESTS NABBED WITH 4 ROBBERS

Police Break Up Party
With Bandit Players.

When gunmen sit in bunco games and innocent, almost childish pastime with the jumping dominoes may hold some thrill.

Detectives, under the direction of Asst. Philip Carroll of the detective bureau, early yesterday invaded the bunco party at Mrs. Wills Ralston, 215 Warren avenue, took the comely young woman and her down guests to the bureau, and then picked out from among them four pretty young bandits who had committed more than fifty larceny and robberies in the last six months.

The robbers were William Swift, 19 years old, son of the Rev. John Swift of San Francisco, said to be a Methodist preacher; Howard Delaney, 21, and star boarder in Mrs. Ralston's house; Theodore Carroll, posing as a "friendship of good family."

Hostess and Guests Held.
Carroll's wife, Katherine Kessler, 21, who, the police say, had changed over to Swift and lived with him in a love nest on Winthrop avenue, also was taken in the roundup. She is a pretty blonde, and the police say, a daughter of a business man of San Francisco.

Mrs. Ralston and her guests, because they were found in such company, were held at the bureau while victims of holdups were notified to look for the group over. Three of the robbers were identified by ten of their victims last night. More than 100 other hold-up victims have been called to appear at the bureau at 9:30 this morning.

The police say that the Dodge automobile used by the robbers belongs to Mrs. Ralston, the hostess.
Recover $200 in Jewelry.
Jewelry worth $200 was recovered last night from the home of Mrs. Lena Baker, 2053 5th avenue. Mrs. Baker, the mother of seven children, told the police that Delaney had turned over to her jewelry for safekeeping and that she did not know it had been stolen.

The gang committed half a dozen robberies on the night of April 1, the police say.
The guests included Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kessner, 2019 West Madison street; William Wilson, 1657 West Adams street; Jacob Gees, 228 South Lincoln street; George Pierce, 1457 West Adams street; Clyde Turner, 4 boarder in Mrs. Ralston's home; Harry Workman, 1855 Washington boulevard; and Jacob Snyder, 18 South Leavitt street.

Police Cause Consternation.

There was consternation and protesting as Carroll, with Sergents Thomas E. Connelly, Edward Schimel, George Tappin, and Thomas Connelly, stepped into the quiet party. The shikhan young bandits protested perhaps the most vociferously until the detectives took from them sundry firearms, including an army forty-five and an American bulldog, the latter used by Delaney, he admitted, because "it was so shiny."

And as always—this is the place to sigh, men—there was a woman at the bottom of the pinch. It seems that the dark-skinned Carroll was the first arrested, that the knowledge of the little love nest occupied by him and Mrs. Carroll, ranked—and so he told of the bunco party where they and the rest might be nabbed.

That is the story except for a touch of romance. Carroll and Kessler, the Kessler Carroll, before they were married, both were student nurses at St. Joseph's hospital.

BODY OF WOMAN FOUND IN BATH YIELDS MERCURY

Finding Discounts Theory of Drowning.

Indications that Mrs. Ethel Ruth, 45 years old, found dead Saturday night in a bathtub in the Majestic hotel, died from mercurial poisoning were found in a post mortem examination made yesterday.

Dr. Irving A. Forger, coroner's physician, said that early theories that Mrs. Ruth had been drowned were incorrect. There was no water in her lungs.

He found evidence that Mrs. Ruth had taken the poison and will send the vital organs to Coroner's Chemist William D. McNally for a complete examination.

The woman's husband, Frank J. Ruth, who is under arrest, said his wife might have had a motive for suicide in the fact that she had been dependent because they moved from a north side apartment to the loop hotel room.

Ruth and Walter Elmer, 218 Oakdale avenue, from whom Ruth says he purchased house Saturday, are being held pending the inquest today.

The police said that Mrs. Ruth died about 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon, but that her husband was so added by the moonshine he had been drinking that he sat in the room with the body for two hours before he reported the death to the police.

His former was a representative in Alliance, O., for a big manufacturing corporation in the east, but had been in Chicago for several years.

Russian Grain Two-thirds of Acreage of Last Year

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)

RICHA, Latvia, April 26.—In addition to poor crop reports from many important Russian grain districts Friday's Moscow Ivestia publishes a report from its Kharkov correspondent stating that 140,000,000 acres less grain was sown this year than last. The total area sown in 1924 was 200,000,000 acres, according to completed reports in the entire Ukraine, while only 200,000,000 acres were sown in 1925. The famine in the Ukraine is spreading to neighboring districts.

SAVANT IN JAIL; $1,250,000 IN OPIUM SEIZED

Shanghai Resident in Police Net.

BY JOHN POWELL.
[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
[Copyright: 1926: By The Chicago Tribune.]
SHANGHAI, April 26.—Neb Ezra, Shanghai resident and prominent scientist, today was lodged in jail under $50,000 bond by action of the international mixed court. The action grew out of the seizure by the police a few weeks ago of a cargo of $1,250,000 worth of smuggled opium brought into Shanghai from Turkey.

The police discovered the opium on sale and raided the premises, finding complete documents disclosing a gigantic opium ring with branches in Constantinople and Genoa and in Geneva, where the league of nations has its headquarters and where the opium conference was in session last January.

Issue of Citizenship.
When the Chinese arrested on the premises of the opium den were brought into court, Mr. Ezra and a Russian named Dadunashvili brought civil action against the Chinese prisoners, alleging Spanish ownership of the opium haul. The British mixed court judge denied the Spanish interest, claiming Mr. Ezra was a British subject through his birth in India. The case was referred to the Chinese government, and today the government's decision was announced, denying Mr. Ezra's Spanish citizenship and denying the Spanish consul's right to claim extraterritorial rights for Jewish protégés.

Sends Ezra to Jail.
This afternoon, upon the attempt of Mr. Ezra's attorney to withdraw the case, Judge Martin refused the request and ordered Mr. Ezra held in jail, contending that if not a British subject, then he must be subject to the Chinese laws.

The Ezra case is attracting much attention because it involves the principles of opium suppression discussed at the Geneva conference, which resulted in the withdrawal of the American and Chinese delegations.

SHOT DEAD DURING QUARREL.
Della Young, colored, 33, 4006 Federal street, was shot and killed early yesterday by George Shewalter, Federal street, colored, after a quarrel. Police are looking for Shewalter.

WORLD COURT BACKERS MEET HERE TOMORROW

Hotel Man Tries Suicide Over Financial Troubles

Financial difficulties are believed to have depressed William Mosteller, 60 years old, retired hotel manager, so that he shot himself last night in his room at the Riviera hotel, 4619 North Racine avenue. His daughter, Mary, 29 years old, heard the shot and discovered her father collapsed on the floor. He was taken to the Illinois Masonic hospital, where he will probably die, it was said.

BITTER TALK LEADERS SHOW DIVIDED FRANCHISE

Nationalists Warn
Communist Peril

BY HENRY WALES

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
[Copyright: 1926: By The Chicago Tribune.]

PARIS, April 26.—France, divided between the nationalist and the communist, yesterday the bitterest of the German divisions. Five years ago, when the communists tried to overthrow the government, the nationalists tried to overthrow the communists. The nationalists, however, did not attempt to overthrow the government and the communists did not attempt to overthrow the nationalists.

The first three addresses were at the funerals of the three young nationalists slain Thursday night with communists in Montreuil.

Several thousand police in a republican guard, maintained the order, however, did not attempt to overthrow the government and the communists did not attempt to overthrow the nationalists.

M. Millerand called on the night to maintain their solidarity.

After repelling foreign enemies, permit civil war to break out, he said. "We weep, victims, but do not fear the crisis."

Predicts New Outbreak.
Gen. Castelnau said: "The new hatred is aimed at the best of the nation, at the safeguard of liberty and material wealth, and patriots are gravely menaced by the communists."

Communists are merely a further explosion. They will be armed hands, red and white, and the struggle will go to the bitter end, our efforts must be prompt to save them. Good Frenchmen group all their forces and against the struggle imposed upon them.

M. Taittinger recalled his speech ago, he began organizing nationalist youths because the communists at outrages by certain communists. Foreign men rushed to the call, he pointed out.

M. Herriot, speaking at a meeting, said: "The communists are a bitter warning against the communists. Foreign men rushed to the call, he pointed out."

BITTER TALK OF LEADERS SHOWS DIVIDED FRANCE

Nationalists Warned of Communist Peril.

BY HENRY WALES.

Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.
Paris, April 26.—France, sharply divided between the nationalist majority and the communist minority, with the moderate and radical socialists trying to straddle, watched breathlessly today the result of the German elections.

Five speeches
by France's leaders, M. Millerand,
Gen. Castelnau,
M. Tardieu, M.
Herriot, and Marshal Foch, reveal the bitter struggle going on within
the various hierarchies, political parties, and nationalist groups.

The first three addresses were made at the funerals of the three young nationalist slain Thursday night in a raid with communists in Montmartre at Notre Dame cathedral.
Several thousand police in all categories, including squadrons of mounted cavalry, maintained order.
The police, however, did not attempt any arrests and the ceremonies ended uneventfully.

Millerand called on the nationalists to maintain their solidarity and unity.
After repelling foreign enemies, do not permit civil war to break up our country," he said. "We weep for the dead, but do not fear the criminals."
Foch's New Outlook.

Gen. Castelnau said: "The murderous hatred is aimed at the best citizens, devoted to safeguard liberty, moral and material wealth, and patrimony.
They are gravely menaced by barbarism and destructive socialism. The nationalists were merely a prelude to further exploits. They warn us that it will be armed bands, red terror, all executions en masse. Determined not to the bitter end, our efforts and our actions must be prompt to understand them. Good Frenchmen must use all their forces and energy against the struggle imposed upon us."
M. Tardieu recalled how, six months ago, he began organizing the nationalist youths because they were resentful at outrages by certain mercenaries.
Foreign men rushed to respond to the call, he pointed out.
M. Herriot, speaking at Audouin, issued a bitter warning against religious class war the nationalists are waging. He disposed of M. Millerand's speech, recalling when the former cabinet member offered him the task of forming a cabinet last June, pleading himself (M. Millerand) to agree to all the terms of the left wing.

Herriot's Defense Action.
M. Herriot defended himself for not withdrawing the increased circulation of the franc, saying the Ruhr policy left France isolated, and revolutions of the treasury's situation would have seriously affected the nation's credit.

He arraigned the bankers who,
through the connivance of the nationalists with the religious authorities, induced the people throughout the country to cash their national defense bonds instead of renewing them, thereby causing a fiscal crisis.

"The internal policy is no longer free handed. By provoking reimbursement for bonds, certain powers you all know can overthrow a republic," he said.

"Only by the closest union of defense principles can we live and work in peace. The union must hold indisputable the given word and signed treaties."

San Francisco, Cal., April 26.—(Special)—Illinois Athletic club made a rump of the last day's events in the annual indoor swimming championships, and for the thirteenth
straight time announced with team supremacy
of the country.
Coach Bill Bach-
rach's team gathered thirty-nine points, a comfortable margin of ten over the Olympic club of San Francisco.

which was second. The Chicago A. C. was third with twenty. Thirty-four points were accumulated by the Tricolor club water dogs today.

Other honors had a wide, geographical distribution. Twenty-year-old Walter Spence, swimming for Brooklyn Central Y. M. C. A., was the individual star of the four days' events. He earned eighteen points for his club and unaided put the Brooklyn club in fourth place in the team total, far ahead of many clubs which came to San Francisco strong in numbers.
Young Spence, who came to the United States from Guyana, the son of a Scottish father and a South American mother, entered the national meet unheralded. But this afternoon he was within a finger flicker of winning first place in the 50 yard free style from Johnny Weissmuller.

Arne Borg Also Stars.
Tuesday's races won the five event pentathlon. In addition he won the water stroke and medley races.

Arne Borg of Sweden was second to the British Guyana wonder in individual events. His first place in the 50 and 100 yard races and his second place in the medley gave Borg 15 points.

The traditional fierceness of I. A. C. and C. A. A. rivalry distinguished two events today. First was in the 400 yard relay, where team swimming by Weissmuller and Perry McGivill was an early lead of the Cherry Club.

Ray Jones swam first for C. A. A. and Stubbs Kruger for C. A. A. swimming his 100 yard lap in 34. Herb Opp, swimming against Hugo Miller, secured the lead a bit, but in the third lap McGivill won back all the yards from Kruger.

C. A. A. and Weissmuller turned in a 100 yard sprint in rough water in time of 53 against Ralph Breyer, of
I. A. C., touching the edge about four feet to the goal.

I. A. C. Wins Polo Match.
In the water polo the C. A. A. beated the I. A. C. to the limit in water.
Furious swimming and shooting nurtured every second of the halves and two extra three minute periods before the Tri-color wearers won, 3 to 1. The victory gave the I. A. C. points for second place in the water polo title play and C. A. A. got three points, for third place.

The work of Daniels of C. A. A. featured the four days play at water polo.
Many times the agile Cherry Circle star leaped more than half way out of the water to stop opponents' shots.
At White of the Olympic club of San Francisco made it two straight by winning the high springboard fancy diving event.

The entire I. A. C. team with Manager Charley Dean goes to Los Angeles tomorrow, where it will engage in exhibitions and competitions at Los Angeles A. C. Hollywood A. C., Venice
Beach, and Pasadena.

Chicago A. C. and Cincinnati Y. M.
C. A. teams are also going to southern California.

Check of 3 Big Meets Shows
West Better in 10 of 14 Events

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.

A recapitulation of performances registered in the three major sets of relay games conducted by the Universities of Kansas and Pennsylvania and Drake university this spring shows the west had an advantage in ten of the fourteen events held in common at the three meets.

Of the five major relay races held at the three sets of relays, western teams made better time in three, while the crack Georgetown team hung up better marks in the one and two mile relays. Of the nine individual events held, the west was better in seven,
the east in one, while one, the 150 yard high hurdles, resulted in a win for Drake and Penn covering the distance in the same time, 1:4-8-10. The only individual performance which was better at Penn was made by Woods of Butler college in the running broad jump.

Developing Olympic Athletes.
The games, however, brought out the fact the colleges and universities are developing some sterling athletes who will be valuable timber for the 1936 American Olympic team. While marks were expected to be broken in the Kansas relays, because of their youth, the amazing performances in the Penn and Drake meets, the two oldest of their kind in the country, is surprising.

At the Kansas games, held April 15, Kansas established a new world's record of 12 for the quarter mile relay.
This was faster than marks made in similar events held at Drake and Penn.
In the Jayhawk games, Illinois established a new world's half mile record of 1:27, which was better than the times made in either the Drake or Penn meets. The east was better in the one and two miles and the west faster in the four miles.

West Best in Individuals.
In the individual events, the west had a decided advantage. Roland Locke of Nebraska hung up the best time for the 100 yard dash when he stepped his heat in 13-8-10, world's record time, while winners of the main event at Drake and Penn did better than ten seconds. The time for the 150 yard hurdles was the same,
14-8-10 at the Penn and Drake affairs.

These sterling performances are indicative of what may be expected when the sectional intercollegiate will be held the latter part of next month and early in June. Winners of places in event at Drake and Penn will be eligible to compete in the National Collegiate
A. A. championships to be held on Stagg field, June 12 and 13.

Four of the individual events held in the Penn games were won by western college and university athletes, while Harrington of Notre Dame tied for first place in the pole vault. Hubbard of Michigan won the 100 yard dash, Woods of Butler college of club are planning a program which will be appropriate in carrying out the traditions of this historic organization. The jubilee program has no relation to the annual Mackinac races, which this year will be held July 25

on a greater scale than ever before.

In its fifty years of existence the Chicago Yacht club has grown from a mere handful of enthusiastic yachtsmen to the largest fresh water racing yacht club in the United States. During the world war the club's fleet was reduced to almost nothing because of the members' interest in war activities, but there now are 134 racing yachts and fifty-four power yachts in commission on the north shore.

Get Salt Water Craft.
Charles E. Kramer, who was secretary of the club in 1875, is the present judge advocate and advocate general. He holds membership No. 1, which is determined by priority.

A significant change is taking place in yachting of late years. Commodore Fox points out. A few years back it was common for salt water yachtsmen to obtain the best of the fresh water craft from the Chicago Yacht club members, but the tide has turned and the fresh water group is now taking the best from the salt water yachtsmen.

W. Frigley Buys Speedster.
For evidence of this witness the purchase of Mystic, salt water sloop, by James O. Heyworth, Chicago contractor and fresh water yachtsman.
Fred Price of Chicago has purchased the Larchmont O class Clever, another of the sloop type, winner of the Hullcup, grueling race, New York to Halifax. Desjard, the salt water yacht that came west and cleaned up all the fresh water craft, has been bought by Sam Dausky.

Drifting to the power boat and it is interesting to note Philip Frigley has purchased the Speedster, the first gasoline power boat to go around the world.

Larry Yell, a handsome young man, a budding actor on Franklin Avenue, was in the spring of 1924, when he met a girl named Mary. They were both in the same class at the University of California.

LARRY YELL. A week later she was in the same class as Larry. The three found themselves in the same class. "It's going to be a lot of fun," Larry said. "There'll be three," Larry said.

"Yes, and we'll be nothing but running errands and waiting for me to expect to much. Can't you think of worse things to do with a year ago?" "Not with you, maybe," Larry said.

His rather contemptuous look at Larry and the casual way he had not accompanied the selection of the private.

On the journey out from Mrs. Franklin's room, Larry was feeling when his eyes fell on Hughie's face and the impression. "I don't like to stop," Larry said.

"We're starting now," Larry said. "There's only the packing of the trunk," Larry said. "I hope I'll not be disappointed to expect to much. Can't you think of worse things to do with a year ago?" "Not with you, maybe," Larry said.

BETTER WEATHER GIVES A BEARISH TINT TO GRAINS

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Breaking of the drought in the south with temperatures of around 90 on the winter wheat states for several days the last week forced vegetation along at unusually rapid rates. Favorable conditions also prevailed over the American and Canadian north, and seeding operations have been completed on a two-weeks ahead of the average season. This has brought about a bearish feeling, which has been emphasized by the disappointing foreign export and milling demand for cash wheat.

Another factor that has counted against the market is the limited outside buying and the May liquidation. The trade completion of the latter, and the cash markets are not expected to improve in condition until it is over.

With all the liquidation and the numerous bearish factors, and with sentiment leaning lower prices, the wheat market gave a good account of itself, the May closed 1/4c higher, the July lower, and September 1/2c higher.

Duluth Wheat Due Tuesday.

As to May wheat, cash interests are buying it and selling July, and have widened the spread. Indications are that they will not be heavy buyers of May 1, as there are only about 500,000 bu of contract wheat in store, and a Duluth cargo of around 300,000 bu is due here Tuesday, which will be available for delivery by the end of the week.

Shipping of 1,500,000 to 2,000,000 bu of wheat from the northwest to Chicago does not make any increase in this country's supplies, but makes it more available for delivery on future contracts, and should not have a decided effect as a decreasing influence, as it is already hedged. But by buying by exporters and sellers has fallen below expectations.

With the loss of the public buying support, leaving the market a professional affair with no particular demand for the cash wheat, inclines sentiment to the bear side for the present, and the market prices are susceptible to sharp breaks after bulges. The trade is so sensitive that prices fluctuate sharply within a good range, and May wheat last week moved between $1.45 and $1.56, while a year ago the extreme fluctuation was less than 5c.

U. S. Exports Larger.
The United States exported $21,659,000 of wheat and four from July 1 to March 31, or 91,000,000 bu more than the same time last year, with indications that the season's exports up to July 1 will be 250,000,000 bu, exceeding previous years made earlier in the season by the bulk. The carryover is estimated at around 75,000,000 bu for the United States, or a normal supply.

The Daily Trade Bulletin made supplies in the United States on April 1 1,187,000 bu, against 1,112,000 bu last year, while Canadian supplies of 80,000,000 bu were 45,000,000 bu less than last year. There were larger supplies on ocean passages and in store in the United Kingdom than a year ago; also more in Argentina and in Australia.

May wheat closed Saturday at $1.49 1/2; July $1.35 1/2, and September $1.51 1/2. Prices for the week follow:

EARN SOMETHING FOR YOURSELF

During your regular working hours you work for your employer. He is your boss.

What you do afterwards, you do for yourself. You are the boss.

The boss sees to it that you earn a profit for him besides the wages he pays you.

But do you earn a profit for yourself when you are boss? Are you making any personal gains?

Better wages, better jobs, and better satisfaction follow the development of greater earning power. Three or four hours a week at night school will increase your earning capacity.

Corn Trade Is Bearish.
Advances were taken advantage of by large holders of corn to secure profits, and the trade has become more bearish and professional. Good weather for preparation of corn lands, combined with a moderate demand for cash corn from consumers, and prospects for a small increase in the movement from the country have led to increased selling pressure on July and September, and made a net loss of 1/2c on these deliveries for the week.

May corn closed Saturday at $1.04 1/2; July at $1.07 1/2; September $1.07 1/2. Cash premiums on the low grades, which were strong early in the week, became weak and were lowered later. Prices for the week follow:

May. Mon. 1.04 1/2, Tue. 1.04 1/2, Wed. 1.04 1/2, Thu. 1.04 1/2, Fri. 1.04 1/2, Sat. 1.04 1/2, Sun. 1.04 1/2.
July. Mon. 1.07 1/2, Tue. 1.07 1/2, Wed. 1.07 1/2, Thu. 1.07 1/2, Fri. 1.07 1/2, Sat. 1.07 1/2, Sun. 1.07 1/2.
September. Mon. 1.07 1/2, Tue. 1.07 1/2, Wed. 1.07 1/2, Thu. 1.07 1/2, Fri. 1.07 1/2, Sat. 1.07 1/2, Sun. 1.07 1/2.

Carriers Buy May Oats.
Carriers have been heavy buyers of May oats for a number of weeks, and have taken millions of bushels, at the same time selling the July.

Crop prospects are good, with seeding about completed and the acreage larger. Cash demand is only fair, and the movement below the average.

May closed Saturday at 41 1/2c; July 42 1/2c; September 43 1/2c, unchanged; September 43 1/2c, up 1/2c for the week. Prices follow:

May. Mon. 41 1/2, Tue. 41 1/2, Wed. 41 1/2, Thu. 41 1/2, Fri. 41 1/2, Sat. 41 1/2, Sun. 41 1/2.
July. Mon. 42 1/2, Tue. 42 1/2, Wed. 42 1/2, Thu. 42 1/2, Fri. 42 1/2, Sat. 42 1/2, Sun. 42 1/2.
September. Mon. 43 1/2, Tue. 43 1/2, Wed. 43 1/2, Thu. 43 1/2, Fri. 43 1/2, Sat. 43 1/2, Sun. 43 1/2.

Disappointment in Rye.
One of the greatest disappointments the grain trade has had is in the action of the rye market, which was under the pressure of liquidators in May, and it closed 1/2c lower for the week at $1.07 1/2.

At one time May was practically even with July, and closed at 1c premium. The week's range was $1.05 1/2 to $1.12 1/2. July sold between $1.05 1/2 to $1.12 1/2. September closed at 98 1/2c, or the same as a week ago.

Foreign reports are bullish, but export buying has not been heavy. Provision prices were under pressure from long, and declined sharply, with the close on hand around the low point of the week, showing a big decline from the recent figures. Hogs dropped to the lowest in two months, with receipts.

The New York Times.

New York, April 26.—[Special.]—The fall in money rates and the rise of wheat were the outstanding financial events of the last week. In a measure they were connected with one another although each had a special cause in its own market. In so far as attention continued to be directed to the New York stock market, the Chicago grain market, and the general course of American trade, the last week brought much perplexity, but on the whole was a week of recovery.

The decline on the stock exchange during several days last week was little more than the belated clearing away of speculative rubbish which had obscured the general situation. It appeared that the readjustment from the wild work of the speculative pool in January had not been entirely completed, but the completing of it had no great effect on the general market which on the basis of the averages remained some 5 per cent above the low point of the March reaction.

Hesitancy in Market.

At the same time the stock market

neral attitudes was that of hesitancy. It showed more disposition to respond to unfavorable than to favorable news as a whole. This was especially noticeable in certain railway stocks and in other grade when the individual railway returns for March were published. Looking the market as a whole, however, it was not until the middle of the month had been expected after the breakdown of the overdone speculation for the rise in the price of the railway shares, it is to be noted that they had risen on the average twenty-four per cent since the level of 1924 and the highest of this was that this large enhancement of value was the expression of some extent of the same trend, but it was not a measure of over-optimism or erroneous. Meantime the government of France continued larger in volume than a year ago, but without any advance in prices as would have

In one respect such disappointments are the downward reaction of prices, the recent collapse of speculation on the stock and grain markets, the development of a quiet and steady trade in place of the rapid expansion which had been predicted, has simplified the economic situation. It has brought the rate for Wall street loans on time  $\frac{1}{2}$  of 1 per cent below the figure to which it rose in March. Whereas the New York money market, in many weeks ago, was higher than London's, it is now  $\frac{1}{2}$  of 1 per cent below Amsterdam to disappearing.

The apprehension, commonly entertained about six months ago, this absorption of the gold of the world by the United States, American bonds would bring to a halt the movement of American capital into Europe, has mostly disappeared. However, this change in the situation does not alter the fact that the situation is still a matter of life and death for the United States, and therefore, dependent on the course of the financial reform in France itself. But the bearing on the program of gold redemption of Great Britain is not so important. There is no room for doubt that if gold payment is resumed in England, it is likely to take effect when the statutory restriction on gold exports expires. The only question is whether the new influx into the international market, a British credit at New York, which the London government could now in case it was necessary, could not be used, if the rate, is possible. But on the other hand, actual return of the gold to the United States, and the return to par, and Great Britain's declaration of its purpose to keep it there, would turn the tide of the flow of international capital towards London.

UNCERTAINTIES OF POLITICS MAKING LONDON NERVOUS

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
LONDON, April 26.—Labor threa

and political uncertainties are best seen to show a striking effect upon the general tendency of the market. Slowly but surely British and French investors are turning for safety to issues which have not been seriously affected by home troubles. This accounts for the steady swing of speculative popularity in the direction of oils, rubbers, tin, and metals, especially to the African platinum.

Compared with these semi-foreign nations, industrials and railroad bonds look a dead end on the track. Speculation with the possibility of a favorable boom report giving them their only chance.

Winston Churchill, chancellor of the exchequer, is putting the finishing touches to his budget report this week. It will be absolutely impossible for the British business world to decide what is going to do next until it knows whether or not taxes will be lowered. Then, too, there is the question of the return of the gold standard. The budget will bring that all important subject in the light of day.

Surprisingly little emotion is felt on the stock exchange over the announcement of the new French group. The market is more concerned with the problems of the German president-elect, who is swathed with hatred because more than one business house.

With the increasing tightening of purse strings here, the gilt edged bond drive volume of transactions is shrinking. The market for foreign securities is more or less holding steady. Finally nothing can be expected in the department until the budget is known definitely.

Some rails are falling further down the scale every day. The small traffic on the remaining labor difficulties and the reduction of railroad rates is adding the damage. There is also the loss of motor transportation
